Is your child struggling with handwriting? Run by two licensed occupational therapists trained in Handwriting Without Tears, this camp is designed for Rising Kindergarteners-Rising 2nd graders to improve strength, posture, legibility, speed and self-esteem before entering the new school year. Group will run every Friday for two hours and will focus on upper body strengthening / coordination, correct letter formation, grasp development, and appropriate sizing and line adherence. Kids will learn capital and lower case letters in developmental order while engaging in fun, multi-sensory activities. Child must be able to attend to task and follow directions, as well as follow group expectations. Sign up today!
